

ANNOUNCING THE
SCBWI WESTERN WASHINGTON

inclusivity

SCHOLARSHIP

FOR OUR SPRING 2017 CONFERENCE

The Society of Children's Book Writers & Illustrators, Western Washington, is thrilled to announce that it will award two inclusion scholarships, one for writers, one for illustrators, as part of this year's spring conference. The award covers the cost to attend programming on April 8, 2017, at the Marriott Redmond Town Center.

Eligible applicants must be age 18 or older, write or illustrate for children, meet one of the criteria for diversity defined by We Need Diverse Books, and have financial need such that attending this conference would not otherwise be possible. Applicants do not need to be current members of SCBWI, nor do they need to live in the Western Washington region, although travel and accommodations will not be included in the award.

For more details and to apply, visit www.wwa.scbwi.org
Application Window: Feb 1 – Feb 28, 2017
Winners Announced: March 7, 2017

ANNOUNCING THE
SCBWI WESTERN WASHINGTON

inclusivity

SCHOLARSHIP

FOR OUR SPRING 2017 CONFERENCE

The Society of Children's Book Writers & Illustrators, Western Washington, is thrilled to announce that it will award two inclusion scholarships, one for writers, one for illustrators, as part of this year's spring conference. The award covers the cost to attend programming on April 8, 2017, at the Marriott Redmond Town Center.

Eligible applicants must be age 18 or older, write or illustrate for children, meet one of the criteria for diversity defined by We Need Diverse Books, and have financial need such that attending this conference would not otherwise be possible. Applicants do not need to be current members of SCBWI, nor do they need to live in the Western Washington region, although travel and accommodations will not be included in the award.

For more details and to apply, visit www.wwa.scbwi.org
Application Window: Feb 1 – Feb 28, 2017
Winners Announced: March 7, 2017

